FOREWORD

In a reference book devoted to information about literary folk and their work, there is a wealth of material from which the reader or student may draw both knowledge and inspiration. In this volume IV WHO'S WHO AMONG NORTH AMERICAN AUTHORS, the titles of many thousands of books appear, as well as references to a multitude of magazine and press articles, the culling of which should be both enlightening and stimulating. For handy reference, moreover, the work is divided into two sections, distinguishing those who have had their writings published in book form, and those who have contributed only to the press. Among the latter are editors, newspaper and magazine writers, and many who have written highly technical matter for transactions, proceedings, government bulletins and encyclopedias.

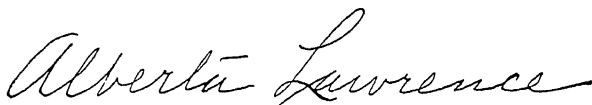

We have made great forward strides since the introduction of this work in 1921. Volume I contained 1700 entries; in Volume II, 3800 names appeared; Volume III rose to 7000 inclusions, and this present volume contains the biographical data of more than 10,000 authors and writers of the United States and Canada, which territory this reference book is designed to cover. There will also be found data from Mexico, and the various possessions of the North American countries. WHO'S WHO AMONG NORTH AMERICAN AUTHORS appears every two years, and the editor invites correspondence from those whose writing leads them either into the field of book production or press work. Inclusion cannot be paid for, the standard of literary excellence being the only admission possible. All sketches are gained direct from the author, insuring accuracy of detail and dates.

In point of territorial distribution, only living authors of the United States and Canada (and their possessions and neighbors), who have either been born in these countries, or who have lived and worked therein, can be considered North American authors. In a few cases, however, authors of American parents, although born and living in a foreign country have been included in view of their American or Canadian parentage; and such applicants for admission to Volume V—1931-1932—will be considered.

It is fitting that we mention we now also publish WHO'S WHO AMONG LIVING AUTHORS OF OLDER NATIONS, which book has a like scope and the same general physical appearance as this work. It includes all other countries and territories of the world, except North America—this being covered by the work in hand. Thus the whole earth is circled by these two reference works on authors and writers, cementing all nations and peoples into active, working, companionable relationship with each other; and affording to the public a true means of information and literary help.

Public libraries, universities, colleges and teachers training institutions all over the world are using WHO'S WHO AMONG NORTH AMERICAN AUTHORS as a standard reference work. Many public school systems of our country have installed it as the text book on authors of the school curriculum.

We express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all who have aided in the upbuilding of WHO'S WHO AMONG NORTH AMERICAN AUTHORS.
